FULL STACK SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

A detailed and self-driven bilingual individual looking for a career as a software developer. I have a love for learning, self-growth, adapting, and facing challenges head-on. Unfulfilled with my previous career choices I needed something that addressed all of these criteria and was able to find that in programming. With the ever expanding technologies, hardware, consumer needs, languages, and frameworks, This is a career path that continues to feed my curiosity.
